Tooth Whitener

Carbamide Peroxide

The Tooth Whitener AF do BRASIL is a product developed for home use, based on products already known throughout the world and highly recommended for vital tooth whitening. Its formula combines the high viscosity of the carbomer gel that does not escape from the tray, like other stands. It uses the active ingredient Carbamide Peroxide in concentrations of 10%, 16% and 22% to obtain effective tooth whitening.

INDICATION

The Tooth Whitening AF do BRASIL is indicated for home use for whitening vital teeth based on the dental whitening technique supervised by the dentist. It is effective in removing stains caused by congenital, systemic, pharmacological or traumatic factors, as well as stains caused by aging. It presents excellent results against stains resulting from fluorosis, especially brown staining. It is also indicated against first-degree and second-degree tetracycline stains.
